Rescaling nonlinear noise for stochastic parabolic equations

Mikhail Neklyudov [1]

[1] Universidade Federal do Amazonas

In the talk we will discuss the regularisation effect of nonlinear gradient noise to the solution of 1D stochastic parabolic equation. We demonstrate convergence to the space homogeneous martingale when we rescale noise at the extremum points of the process. In the end we present open problems and further directions of research.